TIMOTHY BLOOM. The Impending Coup d'Etat at From the New York Times.]

To the Editors of the New York Times:

When constitutional government is in peril there is always warning of the im

for, and men forewarned feel yet as in they were not forearmed. The blow is Struck not by an open enemy; it comes from a quarter in which power has been constitutionally placed for the preserva-tion of the very Government, the deswept away in the pretended interests of the nation, but really because they stand in the way of the man or the party in power. They fear that their power an constitutional government cannot exist together, and therefore they destroy contogether, and therefore they destroy constitutional government. Is such a trifle to stand in the way of their great purposes? This, as we all remember, was the way in which Louis Napoleon, President of the French Republic, nsurped power which made him Emperor. He was made President because he hal persuaded a majority of the French peo-ple that he, of all men, was best fitted to preserve, protect, and defend the Consti-tutional Government of the French Re-public He made himself the autocrat of France, and destroyed its Constitutional Government by sweeping a co-ordinate branch of that Government out of his path, in the coup d clat of the 2ml of December. For this kind of political usurpation we have to use a French name. Our lan guage, framed by a people in whose cra-dle were the seeds of popular liberty, and which advanced steadily to constitu-tional government from the time it left the Scandinavian forests, hap-pily furnishes us with no word or phrase expressive of just this action. And yet it would seem that we have receutly developed a pressing need for some such phrase in our mother tougue, for few of us are blind enough not to see that few of us are blind enough not to see that there is now impending a coup il ctat at Washingten. It hangs above our heads at this very moment, and if we do not lay aside all party hopes and fears, or in fact all other political considerations, it will fall upon us as we are gazing upon it with stupid and inactive apprehension. The power by which the existence of constitutional government is imperiled in this country has control of one branch only of our Government. It holds that power as the representative of only a majority of only a part of the nation. A large mionly a part of the nation. A large mi-nority of the constituents of the very members who at present control the legisnembers who at present control the regis-lative branch of our government are op-posed to their action, and yet must submit, and ought to submit, to that action so long as it is con-stitutional. The skating carnival at Cedar Hill this day and evening, for the benefit of the oor of Louisville, is certain to be one of the biggest things on iee ever known in this climate. Extensive arrangements have been made to have the prettiest girls in the city at the Park. The best skaters in the State are expected to be on hand. As the entertainment, however, is for the benefit of the poor, poor skaters may eonsider themselves specially invited. Several gentlemen who have never skated before this winter (as no one will question) have promised to be present, and will execute some entirely novel feats of ground and lofty tumbling for the amusement of the audience. Liniment and surgical attendance furnished free of charge. Let all the world go and take his wife and daughters. The poor have never derived much benefit from snow and ice; let them now have a bumper!

To add to the interest of the carnivalistic event, Mr. J. M. Myer will award to the best lady or miss skater a beautiful pair of Shirley skates. The contest for this prize will begin at 4 o'clock P. M.

IMPORTANT APRIVALS .- The Honorable Mr. A. McDonald, member of the Canadian Parliament, and Mr. Wm. H. Wilson of Canada West, the famous railroad contractors, arrived in the city yesterday, with a party of Canadian, English and American capitalists, who purpose investing beavily in the construction of the Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad.

The advent of these gentlemen, remarkable as they already are, for the numerous successes they have achieved in the construction of railroads through difficult portions of this country, and for the fabuous wealth that has accrued to them in the prosecution of these enterprises,

They are all men of wealth, and of reputations for enterprise and integrity, that warrant us in rejoieing over their probable connection with the grand scheme, that looks to the completion of the great work of uniting this city and the South, by a line of railroad shorter by two hundred miles to Knoxville, than that now traveled

We trust that the errand upon which these gentlemen come, will prove a complete success. Hurry up our railroad, and let us have coal and lumber, iron and zinc, in which the section traversed abounds, cheaper than we receive them now from other points. RELIGIOUS REVIVALS .- A correspondent at Livermore, Ky., writing on the 19th instant, says the Revs. J. S. "Lo' the poor Indian," has been the eme of song, the terror of fractious children, the raw-head-and-bloody-bones of the nursery, the extinguisher of Wyoming, the murderer of Miss McCrea, the hero of the novelist, the hunted game of the deceased D. Boone, the victim of the knife of S. Kenton, the target of the pistol of Dick Johnson, and the player of the -old boy, out on the Western plains. He was the copper-colored patron of Miles Standish and the Pilgrim Fathers, and cut up several didoes in Florida. Gen. Jackson had several controversies with lim, and he has a peculiar tooth for Texas women and cattle. People who have a spoonful of vinegar in their composition, are fond of applying such complimentary epithets as "savage." "barbarian," "demon," etc., to the poor untutored child of the wilderness, simply because he has a quiet, natural knack of sundering the thread of pale-face life, fragmentizing the golden bowl of white existence, and neatly, expeditionsly, and artistically removing the capillary substance from heads that have no use for capillary substances any more forever. Several of these noblemen of the forest have abandoned the haunts and call-hawk and took up bunches of Cuba sixes, and quietly settled down to trade in the ol noxious weed in our city. That these noble red men have forsaken the bloody nastimes of their race, conquered their natures, and become quiet and inoffensive citizens, is attested by the fact that they ave murdered and scalped no man, wooan, or child, since they have been in Louisville. Naturally taciturn, we have met no one who can positively assert that he has ever heard one of them utter a word, good, bad or indifferent, to a single soul. Such being the fact, we were utterly overwhelmed with astonishment when we learned, yesterday evening, that a fast | lyn. young blood of the city, who is seldom ont of serapes, had violently, and without provocation, late on Saturday evening, assaulted the old Cherokee Chief, Mudjeckeetentawamos, or Bloody-ten-toes, who is a silent partner in Warner's tobaceo store on the corner of Third and Jefferson. Old "Mudjee," as he is familiarly called, is an Indian of Brobdignaggian stature but as Li liputian in disposition as watered milk. This young brick, to whom we allude, had spent almost the entire afternoon in copiously imbibing fire-water. As he came out of Pargny s, where he had just laid in a supply of the Bourbonie distillation, his eye chanced to rest upon the ancient savage-savage no longer. Immediately "the blood of all the Howards" began to boil in his veins.

"Get down upon your knees, you damned old redskin, and acknowledge the supremacy of the Anglo-Saxon race!" exclaimed the valiant youth. Old Mudjee never so much as winked or

JOHN SMITH. - John has got into "hockelty" again. This time he has been giving the sharer of his bed and mender of bis clothes a good "trouncing." She appeared in court with one eye in deep mourning, and the other in tears over the corpse of what had once been a nose. According to her testimony John is an abhorred, barbarious, capricions, detestable, envious, fastidious, hard-hearted, illiberal, jealous, keen. loathsome, malevolent. nauseons, obstinate. passionate, quarrelsome, raging, saney, tautalizing. uncomfortable, vexatious, abominable, bitter, captions, disagreea le, execrable. bitter, captions, disagreeable, execrable, fierce, grating, hasty, malicious, nefarious, obstreperous, peevish, restless, save Glass & Co., bankers, have suspended. age, tart, unpleasant, violent, waspish, worrying, acrimonious, blustering, careless, discontented, fretful, growling, hateful, inattentive, malignant, noisy, odi-ous, perverse, rigid, severe, teazing, unsuitable, angry, boisterous, choleric, dis-hactoring, incorrigible, rived. From the Maysville Eagle of the 24th we extract the following Carter county items:

Mr. Satterwhite, the efficient Deputy United States Marshal, was in Maysville the other day, having returned from a light of the states of the jannt through Carter county. While there he arrested D. B. Roberts for keeping a hotel and dealing in liquors without a license. He also sold a portable saw-mill to Joseph Borders for $1,200. This property was sold on an execution in favor of Messrs. Lee & Lewis, of Cincinnati. Writs of ejectment were served on ninetytwo families, npon suit of Charles D. Seldino, for the recovery of 52,000 acres of land in Carter and Lewis counties. Mr. Satterwhite was followed by some of the ejected men for six miles and was fired upon from ambush several times. He summoned a posse, and returned and made arrests of several of the parties engaged in the attempt upon his life.
